APART.

How far apart are you and I, Who sit beside one Winter hearth, Or walk our quiet Autumn path; Our bands entwined, our hearts so far From each, that not you distant star, That shineth in the crowded sky.

Will some unknown of newer birth, Beyond the stars, e'er tell us all? That now like some empurpled pall, Doth hide my soul from thy dear soul. Sindl we where countless planets roll, E'er read the riddle? is all dearth Beyond your mortal eyes?

For perfect love forever tries
To feel itself at one with love;
Around, beneath, beside, above,
To center in the one—no more,
And on this present rock-strewn shore
We cannot win love's perfect prize We are for aye alone.

Realizing that no subject can be of more vital importance, as well as interest to all readers, than the condition of the women of America, we have collected and prepared with considerable care, additional facts bearing on the same subject.

The ladies of this country have been more observed and talked about than those of any other their characteristics - usually with admiration. The anquestionable value of Warner's safe Kithey and Liver Cure is all the more manifest from the fact that heretofore no adequate remedy for the ills of women has ever been discovered; nor have the medi cal profession ever been able to assist wo-man in her troubles as she deserves. This is, perhaps, largely due to the presence of From the Home Journal, New York.

A short time since an article appeared in the columns of this lighting effect of bigotry and intolerance in that profession. The history of medicine is a history which illustrates to the fullest the blighting effect of bigotry and intolerance. use of ether in surgical operations, was charged with witchcraft, and yet the di-coveries of these men are to-day reen-nized as of infinite benefit to the race. It is the solemn duty of every physician in the land to take advantage of every opportunity which is within his reach; promote the interest of this or that school; but to heal the people of their infirmities. All have witnessed death bed scenes and felt that if skill were equal to disease death might have been postponed many years ago-that scienc: (if use were made of all the agencies she has revealed) was equal to a cure.

How many a time in the experience of all has this been illustrated! A cold is cotrated, it refuses to yield to a fixed form of treatment, the physician may as the candidation of the same and the same and the same are a independent agencies and the dear or of independent agencies, and the dear o e dies because the doctor will not ex-haust evry expedient known to the world for relief!
